Summary of Legislation

Under current law, a local government is prohibited from using nonfunctional turf or invasive plants in any new or redeveloped government property beginning January 1, 2026. This bill expands the prohibition to include residential property with 12 or more dwelling units. No later than January 1, 2028, local governments must enact or amend ordinances to limit the installation of nonfunctional turf for these residential developments.

State Expenditures

The Division of Local Government in the Department of Local Affairs (DOLA) will have a minimal workload increase to respond to requests for technical assistance, helping local governments to assess compliance, organizing information presentations, and communicating best practices in collaboration with other state agencies. The division must also update documents and instruction materials in the division's land development code template. These efforts do not require new appropriations.

Local Government

Local governments will have an increase in workload to update codes and ordinances and to incorporate the expanded prohibition into planning documents and the development approval processes for apartment or condominium housing and redevelopment projects. Workload will also increase to update planning and development documents and to enforce the prohibition on nonfunctional turf on some residential development.

Effective Date

The bill was signed into law by the Governor on May 20, 2025, and takes effect on August 6, 2025, assuming no referendum petition is filed.
