MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Call for the First Extraordinary Session of the Seventy-Second General Assembly

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Governor of the State of Colorado, and in particular, pursuant to article IV, section 9 of the Colorado Constitution, and as recognized in article V, section 7, I, Jared Polis, Governor of the State of Colorado, hereby find that the following extraordinary occasions exist to convene the 72nd General Assembly to meet in special session.

I. Background

The Colorado Department of Public Health and Environment's (CDPHE) public health laboratory confirmed the first presumptive positive coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) test result in Colorado on March 5, 2020. I declared a disaster emergency due to the presence of COVID-19 in the State of Colorado on March 11, 2020. Since then, the COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency has cost the lives of over 2,300 of our fellow Coloradans, has strained our public health care system and health care capacity, damaged our economy, and taken a significant toll on our schools and institutions of higher education.

Recent developments in vaccine research are encouraging. We can envision a near future when the COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency is behind us. But while the finish line is in sight, we must continue to protect ourselves and our loved ones from COVID-19. Case counts have steadily climbed through the fall, and it has become clear that we must take extraordinary measures to support Colorado's people and economy. Businesses and families need assistance to get through the challenging winter ahead. To meet this moment, we must make critical investments as soon as possible. Colorado small businesses and families struggling to pay rent and their electric bills cannot afford to wait until the 73rd General Assembly convenes on January 13th, 2021, which is why I am calling this extraordinary session of the General Assembly.

This past fiscal year, the General Assembly passed a responsible budget in a very challenging fiscal environment. Their actions, combined with better than anticipated revenues during the summer months, resulted in surplus funds in the current fiscal year that we can direct to one-time support for businesses and families impacted by the COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency, while also helping to sustain our economy. I am calling this extraordinary session to ask the General Assembly to consider taking action in seven areas:

Small Business

Small businesses, including gyms, restaurants, bars, arts and culture venues, and event-related businesses, such as entertainment venues, have struggled to stay open at lower capacities, making it difficult to pay their staff and rent. While these small businesses saw some recovery over the summer when many were able to provide walk-up and outdoor service, many still struggle due to lack of consumer confidence and COVID-19 restrictions. These challenges will likely increase through the fall and winter months.

Child Care

The COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency has burdened child care providers, which we know are crucial to building and sustaining a thriving economy by enabling families to work and preparing children for school. Colorado’s fragile child care system is strained and vulnerable to a collapse due to the pandemic. Lower enrollment, required changes to ensure student and worker safety consistent with health requirements, staffing issues including quarantine measures consistent with protecting the public health, sporadic closure of the schools, and other impacts of the pandemic are also impacting the child care system. Based on a recent survey, at least 26% of child care facilities in Colorado may close permanently without financial support, due to the pandemic.

Housing and Direct Assistance

Because of the federal Paycheck Protection Program, loans for small businesses, enhanced unemployment benefits, and direct payments to Americans, we have avoided a significant wave of housing evictions and foreclosures. Now, though, the expiration of these programs leaves vulnerable Coloradans at risk of eviction or foreclosure in the coming months. We must mobilize additional resources to allow Coloradans to stay in their homes in the near term and rebuild their lives in the long term.

Broadband

A Colorado Department of Education and Colorado Education Initiative survey demonstrated that 65,860 children lacked stable internet access at home. While many school districts across Colorado are learning in person, the most recent increase in COVID-19 cases has led other school districts, including many Denver metro area school districts, to switch to remote learning. Without broadband or wi-fi hotspots, these students will face significant learning loss that will have implications for their future academic careers and lifetime earnings.

Food Insecurity

Demand for food assistance via food pantries and food banks has increased as a result of the COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency. The demand appears to be correlated with unemployment and furloughs in the service sector, as well as school and camp closures, and is not anticipated to abate in the short-term. Meanwhile, food pantries’ food resources were often stretched prior to the pandemic and resulting economic fallout. As dollars available for hunger relief through the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act) and Families First Coronavirus Relief Act (FFRCA) end in December 2020, no new federal funding is currently available to replace these funds.

Utilities Assistance

Heading into the winter, many Coloradans are unemployed, underemployed, or unable to find new work. At the same time, these Coloradans may have little to no savings and growing expenses due to the COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency. This segment of the population now qualifies as low-income, and is at risk of being unable to afford their utility bills over the coming months. Energy Outreach Colorado applications are up 25% compared to the same time last year, and funding allocated by the General Assembly during the prior legislative session will be distributed by December 4, 2020.

Public Health Response

As the pandemic has entered its third wave in Colorado, additional funds are needed immediately to continue the State's robust public health response. My budget request set aside funds to ensure the State can continue to protect public health while we await additional federal stimulus and reimbursement from the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

In the face of federal inaction, Colorado must act now to support small businesses, protect renters and homeowners, support child care providers, and enable students to access remote education. We can make one-time, urgently needed investments now to help these crucial sectors of our economy survive the winter and sustain our economy.

I urge the General Assembly to act and am defining the appropriate subject matter for legislative consideration herein. The following section describes the purpose and need for the special session.

II. Purpose and Need

In the coming months, we will need to focus on suppressing the spread of COVID-19 in our communities to conserve our strained healthcare resources. We recognize that the lack of consumer confidence, the reality of the risky health situation, and compliance with justified public health measures comes at a cost to our business owners, workers, educators, and families. We therefore believe it is right and proper to take all necessary measures to enable our residents to weather the economic and logistical challenges that accompany our mitigation strategies. We are calling on the General Assembly to consider taking action to fund the following support programs to help minimize the disruptions caused by our COVID-19 emergency response:

A. The General Assembly should consider taking legislative action to provide direct support and emergency tax relief to small businesses impacted by the COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency. This includes but is not limited to an expeditious, direct assistance funding mechanism for small businesses that are operating at a significantly reduced capacity or closed under public health orders. Small businesses, including gyms, restaurants, bars, arts and culture venues, and event-related businesses, such as entertainment venues, have struggled to stay open at lower capacities, making it difficult to pay their staff and rent. The General Assembly should also consider providing tax and administrative relief, including sales tax retention, for certain small businesses, including restaurants and bars. The General Assembly should consider allowing these certain small businesses to retain up to $2,000 per month of the 2.9% gross state sales tax collections they already collect and should allow for the waiver of certain fees associated with the sale of liquor and enforcement and the operation of a restaurant, including retail food establishment licensing fees administered by CDPHE and Colorado Department of Revenue.

B. The General Assembly should consider taking legislative action to provide housing and rental assistance and direct cash assistance for individuals and families who have been impacted both directly and indirectly by the COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency through existing funding mechanisms such as the Property Owner Preservation program (POP), the Emergency Housing Assistance program (EHAP), the Workers Left Behind Fund (WLBFF), the Housing Counseling Assistance Program (HCAP), homeless youth programs, and direct cash assistance.

C. The General Assembly should consider taking legislative action to provide monetary assistance to new and existing child care providers through existing funding mechanisms such as sustainability grants for existing child care providers, and support for child care start-up or expansion costs for providers located in child care deserts, demonstrated need, or areas of the State hardest hit by COVID-19.

D. The General Assembly should consider taking legislative action to expand broadband and wi-fi access for educational purposes, especially for P-12 students and educators.

E. The General Assembly should consider taking legislative action to provide support for food pantries and food banks so that they can provide assistance for those experiencing food insecurity due to the COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency.

F. The General Assembly should consider taking legislative action to provide utility assistance to Coloradans experiencing financial hardship due to the COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency.

G. The General Assembly should consider taking legislative action to appropriate funds to the Disaster Emergency Fund for public health expenses associated with the COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency.

III. Proclamation

I, Jared Polis, Governor of the State of Colorado, with this proclamation find extraordinary occasions exist to convene the 72nd General Assembly of this State and summon the members of the 72nd General Assembly to meet in Special Session at 10:00 AM on November 30, 2020, at the State Capitol, in the City and County of Denver, and designate the following specific subjects for consideration, appropriate legislative action, and funding:

This includes but is not limited to an expeditious direct assistance funding mechanism for small businesses that are at reduced capacity under public health orders including gyms, restaurants, bars, arts and culture venues, and event-related businesses, such as entertainment venues; emergency sales tax relief for public health order-impacted eating and drinking establishments by allowing them to retain up to $2,000 per month of the 2.9% gross state sales tax that they already collect, in order to pay for expenses including employee pay, rent, and overhead; and allowing for the waiver of certain licensing fees associated with sale of liquor and fees associated with the establishment or operation of a retail food establishment.

- B. Concerning housing and rental assistance to individuals and residential property owners impacted by the COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency through existing funding mechanisms such as the Property Owner Preservation program (POP), the Emergency Housing Assistance program (EHAP), the Workers Left Behind Fund (WLBF), the Housing Counseling Assistance Program (HCAP), homeless youth organizations, non-profits, and cash assistance. 1-7
- C. Concerning support for existing and new child care providers impacted by the COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency through existing funding mechanisms such as, but not limited to, sustainability grants for existing child care providers and support for child care start-up or expansion costs for providers located in child care deserts or areas of the State hardest hit by COVID-19. 8-13
- D. Concerning expanding broadband and wi-fi access for educational purposes, especially for P-12 students and educators impacted by the COVID-19 Pandemic Emergency. 14-17

Remarks of President Garcia: 60-61

Good Morning and welcome back to the Senate, where we have been called to serve the people of Colorado during this extraordinary and turbulent time. 62-64

2020 been a year of harrowing heartbreak and transformational civil unrest. We have watched our country be torn apart by brutish political in-fighting, while simultaneously, we have suffered the worst threat to our collective health in over a century. 65-68

Now, as the pandemic reaches a new level of devastation - to both human life, as well as economic stability - it is our responsibility to meet the immediate needs of Colorado families and get them the relief necessary to weather the storm. 69-72

Because the reality is, this storm we are in the midst of is terrifyingly destructive. People all over this state are quite literally fighting for their lives and their livelihoods. Families are on the edge of homelessness, Parents are anxiously balancing work without childcare, and Businesses are closing at unprecedented rates.

Without continued aid from Washington, thousands of Coloradans are facing increasingly desperate situations - their life savings, food security, and education disappearing in front of them. However, despite an embarrassing display of inaction on the federal level, we are here to set a better example - working in a bipartisan manner to address the dire challenges facing Colorado. Because even though our power and resources as a state are limited, they are not nothing.

That's why, for the next three days, we are going to do everything we can to deliver the support families and businesses need to make it through the months ahead. While this task may be enormous, I truly believe that Every Single Person in this room is ready and willing to approach our objective with the focus, cooperation, and humility that hardworking Coloradans deserve.

Because, ultimately, this Special Session is not - and can not - be about us. With every speech we give, every question we ask, and every bill we introduce, let us remember the collective calling we are here to honor - always putting personal agendas and self-serving attitudes aside.

In that spirit, I want to take a moment to recognize the incredible amount of work it has taken to get us here today, as well as the monumental task we have ahead of us. I want to thank the both the Majority Leader and the Minority Leader for their commitment and unreserved partnership during this process. In fact, across the board, I am exceedingly proud and comforted by the bipartisanship and collaboration this chamber has shown in the last few weeks. Dysfunction and political showmanship may be alive and well in the halls of Congress, but here in the Colorado Senate, we are showing yet again, the power of people-first politics.

I also want to thank all of the staff who have worked tirelessly to organize this extraordinary session: drafting bills, outlining safety protocols, and overcoming tech challenges - We wouldn't be here without you.

Lastly, I must call your attention to our state's climbing positivity rate. Right now, 1 out of every 41 people is infected with COVID-19 in Colorado - a number that should serve as a somber reminder that we must keep each other safe. Being in this building presents an undeniable risk to everyone involved, and we need to treat our time here with respect, reverence, and an abundance of caution.

So thank you in advance for your participation and mindfulness during this process. I have faith that we will work quickly, efficiently, and safely to deliver the relief our constituents so urgently need.

With that, let's get to work.

Senate reconvened.

On motion of Majority Leader Fenberg, and with the unanimous consent of those elected to the Senate, the words of President Leroy Garcia were ordered spread upon the pages of the Journal.

On motion of Majority Leader Fenberg, and with a majority of those elected to the Senate having voted in the affirmative, Senators Rodriguez and Lundeen were appointed to the committee to notify the Governor via telephone that the Senate is organized and ready for business.

A majority of all members elected to the Senate having voted in the affirmative, the motion was declared adopted.

Senate in recess.

With the unanimous consent of the Senate, the Senate heard the remarks of Senator Chris Holbert, Senate Minority Leader. The text of the remarks follow.

Remarks of Minority Leader Holbert:

Thank you, Mr. President.

Thank you for your remarks. I think it is acceptable for me to indicate that our caucus is supportive of why we are here today and probably for the next two.

I ask for this opportunity to maybe speak more to the people outside of the Capitol, because the last several months, as the good senator from Aurora indicated, this has been a very challenging year.

People outside the Capitol have understandably asked, "Why is their state legislature so silent, why haven't we been doing anything?" And it has been an opportunity (you know what I like to do) to explain the history of our Constitution, and decisions that the People of Colorado have made to amend that State Constitution.

In 1988, the people of Colorado voted on what was then known as "Amendment 3". Amendment 3 passed on the ballot, and the people made a significant change to their state legislature.

Last year, the state Supreme Court ruled on a matter regarding that significant change, that change in 1988 created a 120 day session calendar here at the Capitol. We're not allowed to go more than 120 days in general session. But it did more than that. It converted we state legislators here in Colorado from full-time year round elected officials, to part-time citizen legislators.

And what I have found is that when people learn what the voters approved in 1988, they're not alarmed. They're not frustrated. They appreciate knowing that history. Because so many people who live in Colorado now weren't old enough to vote in 1988, didn't live here in 1988, or weren't even born yet in 1988.

That was 32 years ago. There have been many people voting here in Colorado who weren't even born when that decision was made. People have rightly asked, "Why is the governor allowed to do so much on his own?" In large part, it's because of that decision in 1988.

The legislature isn't here for eight months a year, and this year it changed a bit because of the extension due to Covid. We left here June 15th, and since then this branch of our state government, the legislative branch, has been inactive because the people decided 32 years ago that they wanted a part-time citizen legislature. And that's unique because those limitations don't apply to any other elected official in Colorado, whether we look to school board members or town or city council members, mayors, county elected officials, our state-wide electeds, special district board members.

Of course the governor, the secretary of state, the treasurer and the attorney general, our members of Congress can meet year round. But we cannot, unless two-thirds of us agree to call a special session, which certainly has not occurred since 1988 when the voters told us they didn't want us here more than 120 days a year.

So the way special sessions have happened since then, and really, I think every time since 1876, is that we rely on the governor to call a special session. Which is the next thing I want to address.

Understandably, people have been weighing in at least with the Minority Caucus, we Republicans, saying "Now you'll have an opportunity to do this or that, to run a bill to address some topic that is important to those people who are advocating.

But if we go back to our State Constitution, Article IV Section IX says that the governor has the authority to call the legislature into special session, but that topics not specifically identified in the call cannot be "transacted".

Now that's an unusual word because I don't typically use that word in describing the processes here at the Capitol, but I think what it means - I'm not an attorney, but in my layperson mind I think what it means is that topics that the governor has not called us back to address can't pass. And if we were to put a bill on his desk that he thinks is outside his call, he could choose to veto that bill simply because he determines on his own that it is unconstitutional.

All of this information is available to those who take time to read our Constitution, but it may not be obvious because not everyone gets to participate in this fascinating process that we do. But I do appreciate Mr. President, the opportunity to explain some of this because in recent days I've definitely heard from people who say, "Finally - we are going to be able to pass a bill that does this or does that".

There will be bills from our caucus that seek to address some of those issues, but I wanted to take the time to explain the limitations that we have as a legislature and the limitations that we have as a minority in the legislature, and to explain -- not blame, but to simply explain that the answers can be found in a document that very few people ever take time to read; the Constitution of the State of Colorado.

Mr. President, I'm proud to stand with you here today and with our 33 other colleagues, either here in this room, or online. I look forward to hearing what, from the people of Colorado who come here to testify or, I think for the first time do that remotely, by I think Webex, we will learn here. This will give us an opportunity to prepare for January 13th, when the next general session starts. General sessions are when we all get to introduce up to five bills of our own choosing of general concern to the State of Colorado.

But today, Day One of what will likely be a three day session, we are here to focus on special concerns; in a special session. Concerns that have been specifically identified by the governor and brought us back for a very good reason: balanced government. And I want to thank the good senator from Adams County, the Chair, our lead on the Joint Budget Committee for standing up for this branch. For standing up for the legislative branch of our state government. Thank you.

Also to the senator in our caucus from Carbondale, thank you, and by the way, for those listening online, our rules don't allow us to use the names of our fellow senators, so that's why we refer to them by their districts, but what we are doing here today is standing up for our branch, the legislative branch. We're here to represent the people within the limitations of our State Constitution.

Senate Republicans asked months ago for the governor to call a special session. Our interest at that time was to discuss issues surrounding public K - 12 education. Not necessarily to ask for vouchers, but to talk with teachers and school districts, they have local control here in Colorado. Are there things that we could change at least during the pandemic that would make it easier for teachers to connect with students? One idea I had was a question: would a teacher in a public school in Colorado be allowed to get in his or her car and go to a house, or maybe a community center at a homeowners' or association or rec center and teach a small group of kids in that facility?

I don't know the answer to that, and I don't know if a school board would need our help in making that decision. But those were the kinds of conversations that we wanted to have months ago. That was a legitimate request of the one person who can do that on his or her own, the governor. But that was described at the time as a "political stunt". Okay. It wasn't.

Mr. President. Colleagues. Senate Minority Caucus members. We Republicans are here to work together for the people of Colorado and we are proud to do so. We are proud to have the opportunity to represent them and to stand up for balance in government, the legislative branch. And we wouldn't be here if it wasn't for the leadership of our Joint Budget Committee, so gentlemen again, thank you for what you did in that environment.

Mr. President, there are solutions that Senate Republicans will propose, I hope they will be given fair consideration in a hearing. If it means we need to be here for more than three days, then we are prepared to do that.

Mr. President, thank you for your communication, Mr. Majority Leader, thank you also for your communication over the last few weeks in organizing this special session. God bless every member of this General Assembly, the people of Colorado, and the United States of America.

Thank you, Mr. President.

Senate reconvened.

"SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly hereby finds and declares that:

(a) Due to the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic and the ongoing public health emergency that Colorado has been battling since March 2020, many retailers in the state, particularly those that are subject to mandatory capacity restrictions, have suffered severe revenue declines;

(b) Many retailers have been forced to choose between closing their doors and laying off employees;

(c) Not all retailers were able to make such a choice for themselves and were instead forced to close, further straining the state's unemployment insurance program, resulting in significant impacts to the state's budget;

(d) As retailers continue to close due to economic strain, local communities and governments are doing their best to deal with the fallout of lost jobs and revenue; and

(e) By providing relief to certain retailers, local businesses can continue to provide valuable services to their community and continue to employ Coloradans who would otherwise lose their jobs.

(2) The general assembly further finds and declares that the alcoholic beverages drinking places industry, the restaurant and other eating places industry, and the mobile food services industry are severely impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic due to mandatory capacity restrictions and by public health orders that required or recommended potential patrons to stay home. These specific industries are in particular need of relief in order to stabilize the economy throughout the state and to better position Colorado's economy to recover from the COVID-19 pandemic."
