Except under limited circumstances, current law prohibits a licensed, registered, or certified mental health professional from disclosing, without the client's consent, confidential communications made by, or advice given to, the client in the course of the professional relationship.

Shading denotes HOUSE amendment. Double underlining denotes SENATE amendment.
*Capital letters indicate new material to be added to existing statute.
Dashes through the words indicate deletions from existing statute.*

The bill grants an exception to the prohibition against disclosure when the mental health professional's client either:

- ! Makes a direct threat against a school or its occupants; or
- ! Exhibits behavior that, in the mental health professional's reasonable judgment, creates a dangerous environment in a school that may jeopardize the safety or well being of students, faculty, staff, parents, or the general public.

The mental health professional must limit the disclosure to appropriate school district personnel and maintain confidentiality of the disclosure.

A mental health professional is not liable for disclosing or failing to disclose a confidential communication, except to the extent the mental health professional has a duty under current law to warn and protect.

1 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:
