Summary of Legislation

The bill creates the Aspire to College Colorado pilot program within the Colorado Department of Human Services (DHS). DHS is required to make an initial deposit of $50 into a college savings account for up to 2,000 low income, preschool-age children per year, for up to three years. DHS is required to adopt rules for the program, including eligibility, additional monetary contributions, and data collection to evaluate the program.

The program is intended to be a public-private partnership, with the state providing the initial deposit into the savings accounts, and private donations matching any family contributions. Private resources are also to be used to encourage college savings, increase the financial literacy of participants, and evaluate the program's effectiveness.

The bill also creates the Aspire to College Colorado Pilot Program Fund (fund). The fund may include gifts, grants, and donations, and any money transferred or appropriated to it by the General Assembly. Any money in the fund at the end of the fiscal year must remain in the fund.

State Revenue

The bill allows the DHS to accept gifts, grants, and donations, although no source or amount has been identified. Gifts and donations are exempt from TABOR revenue limits.

State Expenditures

The bill increases expenditures for the DHS by up to $100,000 per year for three years, beginning in FY 2016-17. The bill requires the DHS to deposit $50 into a college savings account for up to 2,000 children each year for three years. The bill also increases the workload for the DHS to design the program and for the Department of Law (DOL) to assist with initial rulemaking. Although no money will be deposited in a college savings account prior to FY 2016-17, the workload increase will begin in FY 2015-16. The workload increase for both DHS and DOL is expected to be minimal and does not require a change in appropriations for either department.

State Appropriations

The bill includes a General Fund appropriation of $100,000 to the Department of Human Services in FY 2016-17.

Effective Date

The bill was postponed indefinitely by the Senate State, Veterans, and Military Affairs Committee on May 2, 2016.
