Summary of Legislation

Beginning July 1, 2016, the bill creates a state sales and use tax exemption for a historic aircraft that is on loan to a museum for public display, whether for demonstration, educational, or museum promotional purposes. In order to qualify for the exemption, the historic aircraft may not be used for any other purpose while it is in the state. The museum to which a historic aircraft is on loan must be open to the public at least 20 hours a week. Historic aircraft includes any original, restored, or replica of a heavier-than-air aircraft that is at least 35 years old.

State Revenue

The bill is expected to reduce state General Fund revenue by $8,000 in FY 2016-17 and $16,000 in FY 2017-18 and subsequent years. The estimate for FY 2016-17 represents a half-year impact.

Assumptions. The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) tracks private aircraft transactions. According to the FAA, buyers with Colorado addresses annually purchase 175 aircraft that are at least 35 years old, at an average price of approximately $275,000 each. The bill affects aircraft only on the occasion of a private transaction, only if the transaction is currently taxable, and only if the aircraft is loaned to a museum as required under the bill. Three museums were identified as potential display sites: Wings Over the Rockies Air & Space

Museum in Denver; the National Museum of World War II Aviation in Colorado Springs; and Pueblo Weisbrod Aircraft Museum in Pueblo. Based on the number of museums, it is assumed that about two aircraft will be exempted each year, reducing General Fund revenue by an average of $8,000 each.

TABOR Impact

This bill reduces state revenue from sales and use taxes, which will reduce the amount of money required to be refunded under TABOR. TABOR refunds are paid out of the General Fund. A TABOR refund obligation is not expected for FY 2016-17.

Local Government Impact

The bill reduces revenue to statutory counties, municipalities, and special districts for which the state collects sales taxes to the extent that exempted transactions occur in these jurisdictions. Because the number of exempted transactions is expected to be small, any revenue impact on local jurisdictions will be uneven across the state.

Effective Date

The bill was postponed indefinitely by the House Appropriations Committee on May 9, 2016.
