Budget package bill. This bill delays the implementation date for a reproductive health program for people ineligible for Medicaid due to citizenship or immigration status by six months. It will shift state expenditures from FY 2021-22 to FY 2022-23.

Appropriation Summary: No appropriation is required.

Fiscal Note Status: The final fiscal note reflects the enacted bill, which was recommended by the Joint Budget Committee as part of its FY 2021-22 supplemental budget package.

Summary of Legislation

The bill extends the date by which the Department of Health Care Policy and Financing must implement a reproductive health program for people ineligible for Medicaid due to citizenship or immigration status, from January 1, 2022, to July 1, 2022.

Background

Senate Bill 21-009 required the Department of Health Care Policy and Financing to administer a reproductive health care program to certain individuals who are not eligible for coverage under Medicaid only because of their citizenship or immigration status, beginning January 1, 2022. The department received $1,335,388 General Fund in this current FY 2021-22 to make information technology system modifications required by SB 21-009; however, these changes have been delayed due to a backlog of other needed system changes.

State Expenditures

The delay in implementing the reproductive health program is a result of multiple, high-priority information technology updates with similar deadlines and not attributable to this bill, which is aligning the statutory deadlines to the reality of the current implementation schedule. Any unspent appropriations will revert to the General Fund and future changes in appropriations will be addressed through the annual budget process.

Effective Date

The bill was signed into law by the Governor and took effect March 7, 2022.
