The bill allows students at preschools, public schools, charter schools and institutions of higher education to wear items of cultural or religious significance during graduation ceremonies. The bill will increase workload for state agencies and local school districts in FY 2024-25 only.

Appropriation Summary: No appropriation is required.

Fiscal Note Status: The final fiscal note reflects the enacted bill.

Summary of Legislation

The bill allows students at preschools, public schools, charter schools and institutions of higher education to wear items of cultural or religious significance during graduation ceremonies. These additional items worn by graduates must comply with existing dress code policies, as long as those policies do not prohibit gender expression of the student. Schools and colleges may not restrict what a student wears underneath their graduation garments and must adopt a policy for graduation attire that aligns with the bill. The State Board of Education may not waive the bill's provisions for charter schools.

The bill does not impede the school or college from prohibiting attire that will be disruptive to the graduation ceremony. Prohibitions on attire must be based on evidence of disruption and use the least restrictive means necessary.

State Expenditures

The bill will increase workload in the Colorado Department of Education, Department of Early Childhood, and for institutions of higher education to update their policies and guidance to abide by the new requirements. This additional workload is assumed to be minimal; no appropriation is required.

School District

Similar to the state, school districts will work to adopt new policies required by the bill. This workload is assumed to be minimal.

Effective Date

The bill was signed into law by the Governor and took effect on June 5, 2024.
