Summary of Legislation

The bill requires municipalities that contract for defense attorneys that represent indigent defendants in domestic violence cases to use the same payment structure and rates that are paid by the Office of the Alternate Defense Counsel (OADC).

Background

There are at least four municipal courts that prosecute domestic violence cases, including Aurora, Denver, Lakewood, and Westminster. Depending on the municipality, indigent defense is provided by staff attorneys, hourly rate contracts consistent with the OADC, or flat fee rate contracts. Currently, the hourly rate for OADC contracts ranges from \$95 to \$105 based on the type of case.

Local Government

To the extent a municipality contracts for attorneys at a lower rate than what the OADC contracts for attorneys, costs to that municipality will increase. The exact increase in costs are dependent on the number of domestic violence cases, the length of cases, and the current contract rate paid by the municipality. Additionally, if OADC contract rates are modified administratively or through legislation, then municipalities may have increased costs.

Effective Date

The bill was signed into law by the Governor on June 6, 2024, and takes effect on July 1, 2025, assuming no referendum petition is filed.
