BY REPRESENTATIVE(S) Kipp, Amabile, Bacon, Benavidez, Bernett, Bird, Boesenecker, Caraveo, Cutter, Duran, Esgar, Exum, Herod, Hooton, Jodeh, Kennedy, Lindsay, Lontine, McCluskie, McLachlan, Michaelson Jenet, Ricks, Titone, Valdez A., Valdez D., Woodrow, Young, Garnett;

CONCERNING INCREASING ACCESS TO POSTSECONDARY WORKFORCE READINESS WITH FINANCIAL AID INFORMATION, AND, IN CONNECTION THEREWITH, MAKING AN APPROPRIATION.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds and declares that:

(a) Research shows that education and training culminating in credentials, such as industry certificates, trade school certificates, apprenticeships, associate's degrees, and bachelor's degrees, among other business and industry-based experiences, are necessary to earn a living wage in Colorado. Completion of the federal or state financial aid applications are key components of understanding how additional education beyond high school can be financially supported. Completion of federal or state financial aid applications supports access to these career pathway options, as they are vehicles to support paying for tuition, fees, equipment, and other expenses associated with additional training beyond high school.

Capital letters or bold & italic numbers indicate new material added to existing law; dashes through words or numbers indicate deletions from existing law and such material is not part of the act.

(b) An understanding of how to access these career-aligned resources and supports is integral to navigating training and education resources for students and families. Financial literacy education and Colorado's individual career and academic plan can help families understand how to obtain federal or state financial aid to support students in pursuing additional education and career training.

(c) Research shows that students and families who do not complete financial aid forms do so for one or more of the following reasons:

(I) (A) Students and families are unaware of the true cost of attending postsecondary options and the resources available to pay for education and training that might be available by federal or state financial aid forms; or

(B) A false belief that grants or scholarships are unavailable based on family resources and income levels;

(II) Students and families often do not have the required tax information available due to individual or family circumstances or needed support to acquire that information or fill out complex forms, which leads to students not completing and submitting federal financial aid or state financial aid documents; and

(III) Students and families fear incurring debt for postsecondary education because of the potential difficulty in paying back those loans;

(d) In 2023, the free application for federal student aid will be simplified, reducing the number of questions from 100 to 30 and reducing the financial information needed through the federal "FAFSA Simplification Act";

(e) More broadly, Colorado students have the opportunity to magnify the impact of state investments in higher education by accessing federal dollars to pursue postsecondary education and a credential of value to enhance income earning potential. It is estimated that more than $30 million in federal resources could be leveraged each year by Colorado students completing federal and state financial aid applications.

(f) Completing federal and state financial aid applications requires support among students and their families, K-12 college and career readiness programs, and higher education institutions for academic and workforce training.
