county in certain circumstances.

The bill sets forth the procedures for determining proper venue and for transferring the case to another county when a child is placed in the legal custody of a county department of social or human services (county department) and the child is initially placed in out-of-home placement in another county. The bill states that for purposes of determining proper venue, a child who is placed in the legal custody of a county department shall be deemed for the entire period of placement to reside in the county in which the child's legal parent or guardian resides or is located, even if the child is physically residing in a foster care or residential facility located in another county. In that circumstance, the court shall not transfer venue during the period of out-of-home placement to any county other than to the county in which the child's legal parent or guardian resides or is located.

Under current law, when proceedings are commenced in a county other than that of the child's residence, the court in which the proceedings were initiated may, on its own motion or on the motion of an interested party, file a motion to transfer the case to the court in which the child's legal parent or guardian resides as long as the transfer is not detrimental to the best interests of the child and adjudication has taken place or the case has been continued. The bill clarifies the circumstances when a case may not be transferred and adds to the statute factors that are in rule where transfers should not occur, including:

- ! Where the legal parent or guardian has a history of frequent moves unless there is evidence of stability in the most recent move indicating an intent to remain in the new residence for 6 or more months;
- ! The transfer will disrupt continuity or provision of services;
- ! The case is likely to close within 3 to 6 months;
- ! The case is an expedited permanency planning case for a child under 6 years of age, unless the presumption that a transfer of proceedings is not in the best interest of the child has been rebutted by a preponderance of the evidence.

The bill sets forth the requirements for notifying the county attorney in the receiving county that a motion to change venue has been filed and states that the attorney for the receiving county has a right to file responsive pleadings and appear at the hearing.
