Summary of Legislation

This bill creates the Agriculture and Drought Resiliency Fund in the Department of Agriculture and transfers $3.0 million from the General Fund to the new fund in FY 2020-21. The department will collaborate and coordinate with the Department of Natural Resources, the Colorado Water Conservation Board, and the Governor's Agricultural Impact Task Force to identify the most effective and efficient uses of the fund. This will include activities that promote the ability of the state to anticipate, prepare for, mitigate, adapt to, or respond to any event, trend, or climatological disturbance related to drought or climate. The department will report on drought and resiliency activities and expenditures during its SMART Act hearings.

State Transfers

The bill transfers $3.0 million from the General Fund to the Agriculture and Drought Resiliency Fund in FY 2020-21.

State Expenditures

The Department of Agriculture will have a $3.0 million increase in expenditures from FY 2020-21 to FY 2022-23 from the Agriculture and Drought Resiliency Fund. The department will convene a stakeholder group with the entities identified in the bill and other interested parties to determine how best to allocate the funds. The Department of Natural Resources will have an increase in workload to participate in the stakeholder process. This workload increase can be accomplished within existing appropriations.

Effective Date

The bill takes effect upon signature of the Governor, or upon becoming law without his signature.

State Appropriations

For FY 2020-21, this bill includes a $3.0 million appropriation from the Agriculture and Drought Resiliency Fund to the Department of Agriculture. Remaining funds are further appropriated to the department through FY 2022-23 for the same purpose.
