removes juveniles who are 10, 11, and 12 years of age from the juvenile court's jurisdiction and increases the age for a prosecution in juvenile court to 13 years of age; except in the case of a homicide, then the juvenile court's jurisdiction extends to juveniles who are 10, 11, and 12 years of age.

The bill changes the minimum age of a county court's concurrent original jurisdiction with the district court in criminal actions that constitute misdemeanors or petty offenses to a person who is 13 years of age.

The bill changes the minimum age of a municipal court's jurisdiction for a charge of a municipal offense to a person who is 13 years of age.

The bill clarifies that juveniles who are 10, 11, and 12 years of age may be taken into temporary custody by law enforcement for safety and then may be referred to appropriate services. Existing funding used to serve children who are 10, 11, and 12 years of age through the Colorado youth detention continuum may continue to serve those children.

Under current law, a juvenile court may transfer the juvenile to district court for criminal proceedings under certain conditions. The bill eliminates the ability for the juvenile court to transfer the juvenile to the district court for juveniles who are 12 or 13 years of age. Furthermore, for a juvenile who is 14 years of age or older, the bill changes the current authority of the juvenile court to transfer the juvenile's case for any delinquent act that constitutes any felony to only any delinquent act that constitutes a class 1 or class 2 felony or a crime of violence.

The bill extends certain sentencing limitations that are currently provided to juveniles who are 10 or 11 years of age to juveniles who are 13 or 14 years of age.

1 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

2 SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly
3 finds and declares that:

4 (a) Children who are charged with crimes and subjected to the 5 juvenile justice system, as compared to similarly situated children who are 6 served outside of the juvenile justice system, are more likely to enter the 7 criminal justice system as adults, more likely to present a future threat to 8 community safety, more likely to face mental health challenges, and less 9 likely to graduate from high school;

1 (b) Younger children who are in the juvenile justice system are at 2 a higher risk of becoming victims of violence within the juvenile justice 3 system;

4 (c) Children of color are more likely to be referred to the juvenile 5 justice system and detained in juvenile justice facilities than white 6 children; and

7 (d) Existing systems, including behavioral health programs, 8 schools, child welfare systems, and other local programs and services, are 9 better equipped than the juvenile justice system to address the needs of 10 young children and to provide developmentally appropriate services to 11 improve community safety by reducing the risk that these children
12 commit future crimes as adults.

13 (2) Therefore, the general assembly declares its intent to take the 14 first step toward ending the prosecution of children who are ten years of 15 age or older but under thirteen years of age, and ultimately to empower 16 community-based responses in the health, education, and child welfare
17 systems to serve children who are under thirteen years of age. The general 18 assembly supports, instead of prosecution, evidence-based and promising 19 practices and programs that improve outcomes for children and 20 community safety, and reduce and eliminate racial and ethnic disparities.

21 SECTION 2. In Colorado Revised Statutes, add 19-3-304.4 as
