HOUSE
Amended 2nd Reading
April 5, 2022

- September 1, 2033;
- Authorizing the director of the division of professions and occupations (director) in the department to impose administrative fines as a disciplinary action;
  - Requiring final actions of the director to be appealed directly to the court of appeals;
  - Modernizing the definition of "acupuncturist" so that it only includes persons licensed under the acupuncturist practice act and modernizing the titles and designations protected for use by licensed acupuncturists;
  - Authorizing an acupuncturist to supervise unlicensed acupuncture aides in the performance of specific tasks as determined by rule of the director and directing the director to adopt rules specifying the tasks that may be performed by acupuncture aides, the training and supervision required, and the number of acupuncture aides that an acupuncturist may supervise;
  - Updating the term "oriental", in references to the methods and concepts of acupuncture, with more modern terminology;
  - Requiring each acupuncturist to devise a plan for the safe storage, security, and disposal of patient records;
  - Requiring each applicant for acupuncturist licensure to pass an examination approved by the director;
  - Repealing the reference to the specific national organization that establishes standards for auricular acudetox training and allowing the director to designate a national organization;
  - Updating the grounds for discipline of an acupuncturist relating to the use or abuse of alcohol, habit-forming drugs, and controlled substances to align with other regulated professions;
  - Adding as a grounds for discipline the failure to respond to a complaint filed against the acupuncturist in an honest, responsive, and timely manner; and
  - Authorizing the director to adopt rules to establish the appropriate use of telehealth to provide acupuncture services.
