Summary of Legislation

The Board of Real Estate Appraisers is set to repeal September 1, 2022. This bill continues the board until September 1, 2031, and implements several recommendations from the 2021 Sunset Review. Changes in the bill include:

- requiring the board to adopt rules to allow for an appraiser to provide an evaluation to a financial institution when an appraisal is not required;
- conforming the statute to current federal law;
- clarifying that fines are assessed per violation and cannot exceed $1,000; and
- repealing the requirement to send letters of admonition by certified mail.

Background

The seven member Board of Real Estate Appraisers is a Governor-appointed body, housed in the Department of Regulatory Agencies that meets every other month to discuss issues related to the regulation of appraisers. The 2021 Sunset Review can be found here:

Continuing Program Impacts

Based on the department's FY 2020-21 actual revenue and expenditures, the Department of Regulatory Agencies is expected to have revenue of $362,019 and expenditures of $833,966 to administer the Board of Real Estate Appraisers. If this bill is enacted, current revenue and expenditures will continue for the board starting in FY 2023-24. The continuing revenue is subject to the state TABOR limit. If this bill is not enacted, the program will end on September 1, 2023, following a wind-down period, and state revenue and expenditures will decrease starting in FY 2023-24 by the amounts shown in Table 1, above. The impact of other changes under the bill are described in the State Expenditures section below.

State Expenditures

The bill will minimally increase workload in the Department of Regulatory Agencies to update program rules and procedures, and potentially reduce postage costs for no longer using registered mail to send letters of admonition. No change in appropriations is required from these changes.

Effective Date

The bill takes effect 90 days following adjournment of the General Assembly sine die, assuming no referendum petition is filed.
