The bill allows community colleges, area technical colleges, and local district colleges (colleges) to develop minimum graduation requirements for a high school diploma based on the minimum high school graduation guidelines adopted by the state board of education. Colleges are authorized to award high school diplomas to students who successfully complete the colleges' minimum high school graduation requirements.

1 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

2 SECTION 1. In Colorado Revised Statutes, 22-10-102, amend
3 (1)(e), (1)(e.5), (1)(e.7), (1)(f), and (1)(g) as follows:

4 22-10-102. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly
5 finds that:

6 (e) Before Colorado can meet its workforce, educational 7 attainment, and poverty-reduction goals, the state must address the need
8 for adult education. A significant percentage of the state's working-age 9 population lacks a high school diploma or its equivalent. Many of these 10 individuals do not have basic literacy, DIGITAL LITERACY, or numeracy 11 skills and are unprepared for participation in postsecondary education and 12 for participation in the twenty-first-century workforce. Further, these 13 individuals are unprepared to provide the learning support and advocacy 14 that their own children or the children they care for require.

15 (e.5) Literacy and level of educational attainment not only impact 16 an individual's ability to gain employment at a self-sufficiency level, but 17 extensive research shows that they are also key determining factors in the 18 educational success and future employment potential of the individual's 19 children or children for whom the individual is a caregiver. A 20 two-generation approach to increasing literacy, DIGITAL LITERACY, and

1 numeracy skills is essential for the workforce of today and tomorrow and 2 for helping to break the cycle of poverty.

3 (e.7) While some adults require educational programs that will 4 improve their literacy, DIGITAL LITERACY, or numeracy skills to gain
5 higher-paying levels of employment, many adults have not completed
6 ninth grade or may otherwise be identified as lowest-level learners.
7 Before these adults can aspire to higher-level employment, they require 8 more basic educational programs that specialize in English language 9 skills and assistance in obtaining a high school DIPLOMA OR AN 10 equivalency certificate.

11 (f) Effectively addressing the need for adult education requires the 12 appropriation of state money to fund adult education and literacy 13 programs that participate in workforce development partnerships or 14 education attainment partnerships and that enable individuals to acquire 15 the basic and more advanced skills needed to function effectively as 16 parents, caregivers, employees, and citizens of the United States.
17 Although there are several postsecondary programs that focus on 18 workforce development and skills acquisition, these programs typically 19 assume that participants are or have been in the workforce in some 20 capacity and have already attained a base level of literacy, DIGITAL 21 LITERACY, and numeracy. Adult education and literacy programs,
22 however, are typically designed for adults who have been unable to enter 23 the workforce in a meaningful capacity or are limited in their ability to 24 support their children's education or participate in society due to a lack of 25 basic literacy, DIGITAL LITERACY, and numeracy skills.

26 (g) In return for state investment in adult education and literacy
27 programs, these programs must refocus their mission to ensure that more

1 low-skilled, low-income adults attain the basic literacy, DIGITAL
2 LITERACY, and numeracy skills that they lack so that they may improve 3 their own and the next generation's ability to participate in the current and 4 future in-demand sectors of employment, function effectively in 5 supporting and advocating for their children's education, and actively 6 participate in society; and

7 SECTION 2. In Colorado Revised Statutes, 22-10-103, amend
