4 (a) Colorado is home to more than half a million immigrants,
5 including refugees, who make up ten percent of the state's population and 6 play a vital role in our state's cultural fabric and shared prosperity;

7 (b) People who are lawful permanent residents and receive public 8 benefits are currently prohibited from sponsoring individuals, usually 9 family members, from coming to the United States, leading to 10 unnecessary family separation;

11 (c) Lawful permanent residents are treated differently under 12 current Colorado law than United States citizens who are allowed to be 13 a sponsor for immigrants; and

14 (d) Only United States citizens and lawful permanent residents 15 can provide sponsorship for individuals who want to immigrate to the 16 United States. Lawful permanent residents do not include undocumented 17 immigrants who are ineligible for most federal benefits.
