Summary of Legislation

The bill updates the process of changing groundwater well owner information. Under current law, a groundwater well owner must file any name or mailing address change with the State Engineer in person, by mail, or by fax. Current law also requires that when a change of ownership occurs, any required forms must be submitted before the change in ownership transaction. The bill modifies these requirements by:

- removing the in person, by mail, or by fax requirement; and
- requiring any necessary forms to be submitted within 63 days after a change in ownership transaction occurs.

In addition, if a change of well ownership occurs and information about the well is not complete, or if the well is unregistered, the Division of Water Resources (DWR) in the Department of Natural Resources must instruct the new owner to complete the appropriate forms.

Assessment of No Fiscal Impact

The DWR has an online system to process updates to well owner contact information, and for change in ownership forms. The bill clarifies and updates language to align statute with the current DWR practice. The bill does not impact the revenue, workload, or expenditures of any state or local government, and is assessed as having no fiscal impact.

Effective Date

The bill was signed into law by the Governor on March 31, 2023, and takes effect on August 7, 2023, assuming no referendum petition is filed.
