SUBJECT: Procedures for Greenhouse Gas Emissions Reports

Summary

This memorandum memorializes the process for requesting and preparing greenhouse gas emissions reports (reports) pursuant to Section 2-2-322.3, C.R.S. It outlines the number of reports per session, the process for requesting reports, the preparation and timing of reports, and the preparation of revised and final reports.

Request Process and Number of Analyses

Legislative Council Staff will prepare up to 20 reports per session, with up to five reports each session requested by each of the following members of legislative leadership in consultation with their caucus: President of the Senate, Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Senate Minority Leader, and the House Minority Leader. Additional requests beyond the five-request limit for individual members of legislative leadership may be approved at the discretion of the Director of Research of Legislative Council Staff. Except as authorized by the Director of Research of Legislative Council Staff, reports will not be prepared during special legislative sessions. Reports may not be requested or prepared for general or supplemental appropriation bills.

Request form. To request a greenhouse gas emissions report, the approving member of legislative leadership or his/her designee must complete the attached form and return it to Legislative Council Staff. When approving a request, the approving member of legislative leadership may delegate authority over all aspects of the request to a designated member. Members should check with each caucus leader about the approval processes for reports.

Communications about requests. Upon receiving a signed request form, Legislative Council Staff will contact the approving member of leadership and/or designated member and the prime sponsor(s) of the measure within two business days to inform them of the feasibility and anticipated timeline for preparing the report. Legislative Council Staff will discuss the anticipated schedule, if known, for hearing the measure in committees of reference with the prime sponsor and approving member of leadership and/or designated member, and determine by what point in the legislative process the report can be prepared.

Withdrawal of request. After discussing the timing and feasibility of the report with Legislative Council Staff, the approving member of leadership and/or designated member is permitted to withdraw the request. Withdrawn requests will not count toward the request limit for the approving member of legislative leadership.

Preparation and Timing of Analyses

Bill version. Greenhouse gas emissions reports will be prepared based on the most recent official version of the bill as of the signing date of the request form.

Initial reports. Legislative Council Staff will publish a report within 14 calendar days of the initial request, unless an alternate timeframe has been discussed with the approving member of leadership and/or designated member and prime sponsor(s). Reports will be provided to the first committee of reference, unless the first committee of reference has already occurred or is scheduled within the 14-day period when the report is being prepared. In such cases, the report will be provided at the first opportunity for the legislature to consider the measure after the 14-day period.

Requests in the second house. If an initial request for a report is received when a measure is in the second house, the same procedure applies as outlined above.

End-of-session requests. No new requests for reports can be made in the final 21 calendar days of the legislative session. Exceptions for report requests during this time period may be made at the discretion of the Director of Research of Legislative Council Staff.

Revisions to Greenhouse Gas Emissions Reports

Revisions to reports while the measure is in the same chamber will only be prepared with the approval of the Director of Research of Legislative Council Staff.

Revisions for the second house. Should a report be prepared on a bill before it is engrossed, Legislative Council Staff may revise the report for the second house to reflect any substantive amendments adopted that affect the emissions impacts described in the initial report. The timing and preparation of revised reports for the second house is at the discretion of Legislative Council Staff. Legislative Council Staff will communicate with the approving member of leadership, designated member, bill sponsor(s), committee chairs, and others to inform them if and when a revised report will be prepared.

End-of-session revisions. Revised reports will not be prepared for bills that are amended in the last 14 days of the legislative session; instead, these amendments will be assessed in the final report.

Final Greenhouse Gas Emissions Reports

Following adjournment sine die, Legislative Council Staff will prepare a final report based on the enacted bill, or if not enacted, the most recent official version of the bill.
