Article 18—Dance Halls

OLLS noted that Article 18 is a candidate for relocation, and the best location is somewhere in Title 30 because boards of county commissioners exercise the regulatory authority. It could be relocated as a new article in Title 30 (maybe a new Article 25) or a new part under Article 15 in Title 30, or even as a single section in Part 4 of Article 15 of the title.

Article 25.5—Escort Services

OLLS noted that Article 25.5 is a candidate for relocation. As it relates to the authority exercised by counties and municipalities, it should be moved to Title 29, which relates to local governments. It could be relocated with other miscellaneous articles in the title, but that would require a decimal point, so perhaps it should be added at the end of Title 29.

Article 28—Fireworks

OLLS noted that Article 28 is a candidate for relocation. As it relates to the authority of the Division of Fire Prevention and Control (DFPC) in the Colorado Department of Public Safety (CDPS), OLLS's initial recommendation is to move this article to Article 33.5 of Title 24, which article pertains to CDPS. As the current DFPC part (Part 12) under Article 33.5 is somewhat cluttered, it is our further recommendation to create a new part. NOTE: Because Article 28 also relates to the powers and duties of counties and municipalities, it could be moved to Title 29, which relates to local governments.

OLLS expects to receive written comment from CDPS on this relocation and will make that input publicly available.

Article 56—Pawnbrokers

OLLS noted that Article 56 is a candidate for relocation. As it relates to the authority exercised by both counties and municipalities, it should be moved to Title 29, which relates to local governments. As with the discussion of Article 25.5, supra, it could be relocated with other miscellaneous articles in the title, but that would require a decimal point, so perhaps it should be added at the end of Title 29.
